

Special Issue on Depression

Call for Papers

Depression is a mood disorder that causes a persistent feeling of sadness and loss of interest. Also called major depressive disorder or clinical depression, it affects how you feel, think and behave and can lead to a variety of emotional and physical problems. You may have trouble doing normal day-to-day activities, and sometimes you may feel as if life isn't worth living.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original researches and review articles on exploring depression. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Symptoms
- Risk factors for depression
- Types of depression
- Depression in children and teens
- Depression in older adults
- Complications
- Treatment

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal at Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue – Depression” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue timetable:

Submission Deadline	February 28th, 2018
Publication Date	April 2018
