Special Issue on
Cross-Cultural Perspectives and Cultural Analysis

Call for Papers

Cross-Cultural Perspectives and Cultural Analysis examines cultural similarities and differences across societies to enhance understanding of human behavior, values, identities, and social structures in a global context. It integrates approaches from anthropology, sociology, cultural studies, linguistics, and psychology to analyze how culture shapes communication, social norms, power relations, and intercultural interactions. The theme emphasizes comparative and context-sensitive analysis, addressing issues such as globalization, migration, cultural hybridity, and intercultural dialogue, with the aim of fostering mutual understanding, cultural competence, and inclusive social development.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Cross-Cultural Perspectives and Cultural Analysis. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Anthropology of culture
- Comparative cultural studies
- Cross-cultural education
- Cultural heritage and preservation
- Cultural hybridity and transnationalism
- Cultural policy and governance
- Cultural psychology
- Cultural sociology
- Ethnography and qualitative research
- Globalization and cultural change
- Identity, ethnicity, and social belonging
- Intercultural communication
- Language, discourse, and culture
- Media and cultural representation
