

Special Issue on Law and Politics

Call for Papers

Law and politics are closely related. Law is a tool for the government to influence the society, and for its own establishment, regulation and control. Law is important in political issues and shapes the conduction of politics.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on law and politics. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Law and courts
- Law and order
- Race and violence issues
- International law and politics
- Regional law and politics
- Government's involvement in law
- Civil rights and law
- Legislation and policy

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Law and Politics” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	January 16th, 2018
Publication Date	March 2018

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries
Please contact Editorial Assistant at blr@scirp.org