

Special Issue on Men's Health

Call for Papers

Men, on average, die younger than women. They face some health challenges women do not, like prostate cancer. They go to the doctor less than women and are more likely to have a serious condition when they do go, research shows.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Men's Health. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Cardiovascular disease
- Enlarged prostate
- Erectile dysfunction
- Hair loss
- Lung cancer
- Male infertility
- Prostate cancer
- Sexual dysfunction

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Men's Health” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	October 5th, 2016
