Special Issue on Computer Science & Systems

Call for Papers

Computer Science & Systems is a multidisciplinary field that combines principles of mathematics, engineering, and logical analysis to study the design, function, and application of computer systems and computational processes. It encompasses a broad range of topics including algorithms, data structures, software design, computer architecture, and artificial intelligence, aiming to solve complex problems through computing. This discipline not only focuses on how computer systems work but also how they can be used to address real-world challenges, making it fundamental to technology development and innovation.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Computer Science & Systems. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Algorithms and complexity
- Algorithms and data structures
- Computer architecture
- Database systems
- Operating systems
- Embedded systems
- Databases and information retrieval
- Computer systems and cybersecurity
- Artificial intelligence and computer systems
- Machine learning
- Cloud computing
- Computer graphics and visualization
- Human-computer interaction
- Software engineering
- Computer networks and distributed systems
- Artificial neural networks
- Computing and information systems

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Computer Science & Systems” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	January 29th, 2025
Publication Date	March 2025
