

Special Issue on Water Project

Call for Papers

Water conservancy engineering is used to control and allocate the nature of surface water and groundwater, building for the purpose of the elimination of its irrigation project. Only to build water conservancy project can we control water flow, prevent floods, the amount of water regulation and distribution. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of water project.

In this special issue, we invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles that explore water project. In this special issue, potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Hydroelectricity
- Water power
- Waterlogging
- Water distribution
- Flood control
- Water storage project

Authors should read over the journal's Authors' Guidelines carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Water Project” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue timetable:

Submission Deadline	March 10th, 2016
Publication Date	May 2016

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries
Please contact the Editorial Assistant at jwarp@scirp.org