

Special Issue on Strategic Management and Leadership

Call for Papers

Strategic Management and Leadership is an interdisciplinary research theme that examines how organizations formulate, implement, and evaluate strategies to achieve long-term objectives and maintain competitive advantage. It explores the role of leadership in shaping organizational vision, culture, decision-making, and change management, emphasizing the alignment of strategic goals with operational practices. Integrating insights from management theory, organizational behavior, and business analytics, this theme investigates topics such as innovation, corporate governance, performance measurement, and ethical leadership. Research in this area provides evidence-based guidance for developing effective leadership practices and strategic frameworks that enhance organizational resilience, adaptability, and sustainable success in dynamic business environments.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Strategic Management and Leadership. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Change management and organizational transformation
- Competitive analysis and market strategy
- Corporate strategy and planning
- Entrepreneurial strategy
- Ethics and responsible leadership
