

Special Issue on Kidney Disease and Clinical Management

Call for Papers

Kidney Disease and Clinical Management focuses on the comprehensive understanding, diagnosis, treatment, and long-term care of acute and chronic kidney disorders across diverse patient populations. This special issue highlights advances in the pathophysiology of kidney disease, early detection and risk stratification, and evidence-based clinical management strategies, including pharmacological therapies, dialysis modalities, and renal transplantation. Emphasis is placed on multidisciplinary approaches, precision medicine, and the integration of emerging technologies to improve patient outcomes, slow disease progression, and enhance quality of life. Contributions addressing clinical guidelines, comorbidity management, and innovations in nephrology practice are particularly welcomed.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Kidney Disease and Clinical Management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Acute kidney injury (AKI) diagnosis and management
- Biomarkers and early detection of kidney disease
- Cardiorenal syndrome and systemic comorbidities
- Chronic kidney disease (CKD) progression and staging
- Clinical guidelines, outcomes research, and health policy in nephrology
- Diabetic kidney disease and metabolic nephropathy
- Genetic and inherited kidney diseases
- Glomerular diseases and nephrotic syndromes
- Hypertensive renal disease
- Kidney transplantation and immunosuppressive therapy
- Patient-centered care and quality-of-life management
- Pharmacological management and nephrotoxicity
- Precision medicine and personalized nephrology
- Renal imaging and diagnostic technologies
- Renal replacement therapies and dialysis management
- Tubulointerstitial kidney disorders

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - *Kidney Disease and Clinical Management” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	April 15th, 2026
Publication Date	June 2026
