Special Issue on Clinical Psychiatry and Mental Health

Call for Papers

Clinical Psychiatry and Mental Health focuses on the assessment, diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of mental, emotional, and behavioral disorders across the lifespan. The field encompasses a broad range of psychiatric conditions, including mood disorders, anxiety disorders, psychotic disorders, personality disorders, substance use disorders, and neurodevelopmental conditions. It integrates advances in clinical practice, neuroscience, psychopharmacology, psychotherapy, behavioral science, and public mental health to improve psychological well-being, enhance quality of life, promote recovery, and support comprehensive, patient-centered mental healthcare.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Clinical Psychiatry and Mental Health. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- General psychiatry
- Child and adolescent psychiatry
- Geriatric psychiatry
- Addiction psychiatry
- Consultation-liaison psychiatry
- Forensic psychiatry
- Mood disorders
- Anxiety and stress disorders
- Psychotic disorders
- Personality disorders
- Neurodevelopmental disorders
- Psychopharmacology
- Psychotherapy and counseling
- Community mental health
- Suicide prevention and crisis intervention
- Psychiatric neuroscience

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the "Special Issue" under your manuscript title. The research field "Special Issue - *Clinical Psychiatry and Mental Health" should be selected during your submission.
